DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment filed 3/27/2001 is acknowledged. Applicant's cancellation of claims 1-20 and amendment of claims 23, 28, 31-34, 41, 44-45, 52, 55-56, 58, 60, and 62 is acknowledged. Applicant's addition of new claims 63-78 is acknowledged. Claims 21-78 are pending.
2. Applicant's election filed 2/26/2003 of invention I, claims 21-28, 32-41, 45-52 and 58-78 is acknowledged. Applicant's additional election of an LH-RH analogue of formula [D-Leu⁶-Npg⁷-Pro⁹-NH₂] LH-RH, which is pGlu-His-Trp-Ser-Tyr-D-Leu-Npg-Arg-Pro-NHC₅H₅. Claims 29-31, 42-44, 53-57 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 21-28, 32-34, and 63-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hirai et al. (US 4659696). Hirai et al. teaches an LH-RH analog which is a polypeptide having the formula pGlu-His-Trp-Ser-Tyr-D-Ala-Leu-Arg-Pro-NHC₂H₅ (or leuporelin) and 5 g of alpha-cyclodextrin. This analog fits the formula of claims A, I, II, III, AND IV defined in claims 23, 24, 25, 26, 27. Tri-O-methylcyclodextrin is also taught (column 4). "Absorption enhancer" in claim 34 is being interpreted as any excipient or pharmaceutical carrier that would increase the stability of the peptide. Thus, the excipient or pharmaceutical carriers used by Hirai et al. would meet this limitation.

Claim 22 recites limitations that refer to the intended use of the pharmaceutical formulation. Where it is possible that structural differences exist between the formulation of Hirai et al. and that of the present invention, there is nothing recited in the claims that distinguishes the present invention from the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1653

Claims 21-28, 32-41, 45-52, 58-65, and 66-78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirai et al. (US 4,659,696) in view of Mehlem (US 2003/0162721 A1). Hirai et al. teaches an LH-RH analog which is a polypeptide having the formula pGlu-His-Trp-Ser-Tyr-D-Ala-Leu-Arg-Pro-NHC₂H₅ (or leuporelin) and 5 g of alpha-cyclodextrin. This analog fits the formula of claims A, I, II, III, AND IV defined in claims 23, 24, 25, 26, 27. Tri-O-methylcyclodextrin is also taught (column 4). "Absorption enhancer" in claim 34 is being interpreted as any excipient or pharmaceutical carrier that would increase the stability of the peptide. Thus, the excipient or pharmaceutical carriers used by Hirai et al. would meet this limitation. Claim 22 recites limitations that refer to the intended use of the pharmaceutical formulation. Where it is possible that structural differences exist between the formulation of Hirai et al. and that of the present invention, there is nothing recited in the claims that distinguishes the present invention from the prior art.

The present method claims are directed to a method of orally administering an LH-RH analog with alpha-cyclodextrin. Whereas Hirai et al., teach the composition of the claims, non-oral administration routes are taught as the preferred method of administration. Thus, Hirai et al. does not expressly teach a method of oral administration, but only allows an inference that an method was employed with reduced success.

However, the teachings of Mehlem teach that peptides for oral administration are made up as capsules that may contain alpha-cyclodextrin. Mehlem employs alpha-cyclodextrin for the oral administration of peptides which is the problem that the present invention seeks to resolve.

Thus, it would have been obvious to the person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the LH-RH peptides of Hirai et al. with alpha-cyclodextrin for the purposes of oral administration. A person of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to use the formulation for administration as capsules comprising alpha-cyclodextrin have been used for the oral administration of peptides with some success. Thus, the claimed invention was within the ordinary skill in the art to make and use at the time it was made and was as a whole, prima facie obvious.
